Identify/Address Needs

List up to three quantifiable needs, as identified in your needs assessment, that these program funds will address. Describe your plan for addressing each need.

Quantifiable Need	Plan for Addressing Need
Increase the percentage of diverse campus leadership from 22% to 27%.	RISD will address this need by providing tuition/stipends and support to ten eligible participants completing their residency year for principal certification.

SMART Goal

Describe the summative SMART goal you have identified for this program (a goal that is Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Relevant, and Timely), either related to student outcome or consistent with the purpose of the grant.

By the end of the grant period the district will hire at least eight diverse campus leaders from the principal preparation program.

Measurable Progress

Identify the benchmarks that you will use at the end of the first three grant quarters to measure progress toward meeting the process and implementation goals defined for the grant.

First-Quarter Benchmark:

By the end of TWU summer semester the residents that require the classes will have successfully completed ELDR 5323 Administrative Process in Schools, ELDR 5123/5903 Educational Foundations and Administrative Implications—Includes AEL, ELDR 5333 Curriculum Development, Assessment, and Evaluation and ELDR 5353 Leadership and Special Programs. The assessment benchmarks will be incorporated within each course and will align to the TExES Principal Exam 268 Exam and the Texas Principal Standards.

Measurable Progress (Cont.)Second-Quarter Benchmark:

By the end of TWU fall semester the residents that require the classes will have successfully completed ELDR 5203 Research, ELDR 5223 Professional Development and Supervision in Education, and ELDR 6113 Education Law.

All students will have successfully completed the required portfolio data documents for their Principal Internship and activities within the ELDR 6513 Professional Principal Preparation course. Additionally, all students will begin working in conjunction with the TWU TExES Prep Center to begin preparation for taking the TExES Principal Exam 268.

Third-Quarter Benchmark:

By the end of TWU spring semester the residents that require the classes will have successfully completed ELDR 5973 Professional Paper, ELDR 6513 Professional Principal Preparation—Includes TTESS, ELDR 6613 Internship for the Principal. Students will continue working in conjunction with the TWU TExES Prep Center to begin preparation for taking the TExES Principal Exam 268. The assessment benchmarks will be incorporated within each course and will align to the TExES Principal Exam 268 Exam and the Texas Principal Standards.

Project Evaluation and Modification

Describe how you will use project evaluation data to determine when and how to modify your program. If your benchmarks or summative SMART goals do not show progress, describe how you will use evaluation data to modify your program for sustainability.

The use of Portfolio Activities, supporting activities within the ELDR 6513 Professional Principal Preparation course, and TExES Prep Center Activities, along with an individual student success plan for any student who doesn't pass his/her practice principal exam, or their TExES Principal Exam 268 will be used to evaluate student progress. Modifications to the courses will be made according to the data gathered from students and student achievement. The mentor principal will provide additional support as needed based on recommendations from TWU.

Statutory/Program Requirements

1. The LEA must provide sustained and rigorous clinical learning in an authentic school setting and substantial leadership responsibilities such as the ability to address and resolve a significant problem/challenge in the school that influences practice and student learning; the skills needed to establish and support effective and continuous professional development with assigned teaching staff; and the ability to facilitate stakeholders' efforts to build a collaborative team within the school to improve instructional practice, student achievement, and the school culture.

In partnership with Texas Women's University, RISD will provide sustained and rigorous clinical learning in an authentic school setting for our one year principal residents. An academic and social environment will be provided which empowers residents by inspiring intellectual curiosity and lifelong learning, embracing scholarship and research, developing leadership and personal responsibility, and promoting diversity and respect for all individuals. The one year residency program will develop leaders skilled in the promotion of learning in a culturally diverse, democratic society. The program will provide evidence-based coursework for the professional preparation needed for educational leaders to make ethically sound decisions informed by an understanding of diverse educational and cultural settings and to enhance the teaching and learning in the school setting by integrating theory, research, and practice.

The TWU ELDR program will begin with in the summer with Advancing Educational Leadership (AEL) training as a foundational approach to examining and learning about leadership. Additionally, the Myers-Briggs Temperament Profile activity in the first course (ELDR 5123/5903 summer 2018) will allow participants to analyze the strengths they bring to leadership and goal-set ways to strengthen areas of needed growth based on data from the Profile in regard to developing "soft skills" and diversifying current individual approaches to situations.

Beginning in the fall semester, each resident will be paired with an experienced principal who will provide ongoing authentic campus-based leadership experiences and ensures the resident is exposed to substantial leadership opportunities throughout their residency year. The principal mentor, teamed with TWU Educational Leadership Program faculty, will provide Crucial Conversations Training, TTESS and Advancing Educational Leadership (AEL) Training, Community Design Lab work, and Teacher Coaching Training. The principal mentor will provide the resident leadership responsibilities in staff development, student discipline, teacher evaluation, data analysis, and problem solving. Opportunities to practice and be evaluated in a school setting will be provided with in-person and on-site coaching. TWU will evaluate the residents with a minimum of three visits per year.

As an administrator, it is imperative to understand how to work with and talk to others in high stake situations so the resident will address and resolve a significant problem/challenge that influences practice and student learning in the school employing components of Crucial Conversations. The resident will understand, analyze, evaluate, and calibrate documentation and evidence for observing teachers using the Texas Teacher Evaluation and Support System (TTESS) and be given the opportunity to complete an unofficial evaluation of a campus teacher. The resident will participate in the Professional Learning Community (PLC) on the assigned campus and evaluate their efforts to build a collaborative team within the school to improve instructional practice, student achievement, and the school culture. The resident will develop the skills needed to establish and support effective and continuous professional development with assigned teaching staff using the Teacher Coaching Training.

At the end of the spring semester, TWU will provide residents with certification; evidence-based coursework; opportunities to practice and be evaluated in a school setting; and in-person and on-site coaching and evaluation with a minimum of three visits per year.

2. The LEA must ensure that there is a systematic and informed targeted recruitment and selection process utilizing demonstrated criteria such as track record of measurable student achievement, evaluations/appraisals, interpersonal leadership, response to observations and feedback, and growth mindset to ensure quality of future principal pool. Plan for consideration of the following in LEA recruitment and selection strategy: degree to which the diversity of the residents mirrors that of the student population.

Richardson ISD (RISD) will identify strong principal candidates from eligible certified teachers that do not hold a principal certification through a competitive application process. Eligible teachers will have a minimum of three years overall successful teaching experience with at least one year of successful teaching experience completed in Richardson ISD. Participants will be selected based upon the highest scores for the following indicators:

1. Prior student achievement – 20pts; 2. Proficient or higher TTESS evaluation – 20pts; 3. Recommendations from their campus principal and district executive director – 20pts; 4. Campus leadership roles previously held – 20pts; 5. Response to previous observations and feedback – 10pts; and 6. Impact statement about goals and growth mindset – 10pts.

The district will conduct a comprehensive review of hiring patterns related to hard-to-staff areas, teacher diversity, and the number of vacancies over a three year span in order to identify potential participants for this program. RISD's short term goal is to increase the diversity of leadership staff from 22% to 27% with a long term goal of 70% diverse staff to more closely match the diversity of our student population. Our objective is to create ethnic, cultural, and socio-economic background diversity in our leadership staff positions by identifying and recruiting diverse future principals out of the Principal Preparation Program.

3. The LEA must provide the name of the institution of higher education (IHE) or educator preparation program (EPP) providing principal preparation; the IHE's or EPP's scope and sequence that includes topics such as student culture routines, data-driven instruction, observation and feedback, team effectiveness, personal leadership, change management, and delivering effective professional development; and the IHE's or EPP's required reading and textbooks.

Richardson ISD will partner with Texas Woman's University (TWU).

TWU's Scope and Sequence is in the attached Principal Certification Crosswalk and outlined in the attached Educational Administration Leadership Practicum Handbook pgs. 8-26 which includes topics such as student culture routines, data-driven instruction, observation and feedback, team effectiveness, personal leadership, change management, and delivering effective professional development (ELDR 6513 & 6613).

TWU's Course Syllabus is in the attached Professional Principal Preparation Residency Handbook with required reading and textbooks on pg. 7.

4. The LEA must provide the IHE's or EPP's candidate evaluation process and metrics; IHE's or EPP's instructional coaching protocols such as the tools used during observations to identify the highest leverage action steps for the principal resident and the protocol the IHE or EPP uses to conduct feedback sessions.

TWU's candidate evaluation process and metrics can be found in the attached Educational Administration Leadership Practicum Handbook pgs 38 - 46;

TWU's instructional coaching protocols such as the tools used during observations to identify the highest leverage action steps for the principal resident and the protocols used to conduct feedback sessions can be found in the attached Field Supervisor Coaching Training Guide pgs. 7 - 24.

This document addresses each of the seven standards of the State Standards for the Principal Certificate, guides you toward preparing your own performance needs assessment, and serves as a personal background against which you will plan significant practicum activities that lead to the Standard Principal's Certificate.

It is important for you to discuss your completed assessment with your site-supervisor when you meet to plan your goals and activities for your practicum. This assessment should provide the basis for your practicum plan.

Included in Appendix H is a copy of the Standards for School Leaders developed by the Interstate School Leaders Licensure Consortium, generally referred to as the ISLLC Standards. ISLLC provides additional performance-based standards that may be referenced when developing your practicum plan.

Note: The three domains and the competencies that form the framework for the TEXES exam are based on these standards. While the language is not identical, the content is essentially the same.

2. Practicum Plan (Appendix B)

After completing your self-assessment, you will develop an individual practicum plan in a cooperative effort with your site supervisor. Your practicum plan is a guide to a semester of on-the-job experiences and learning under the direction of your site supervisor.

You are also expected to assist your site supervisor with opening as well as closing building activities even though your actual practicum may not have begun or may have already ended. These experiences will prove invaluable when you become a leader of a campus.

Your written practicum plan must address each of the seven State Standards and demonstrate proficiency with respect to knowledge and application related to each of the Standards. The practicum plan should also reflect information provided in your Self-Assessment Planning Document. An extensive list of suggested activities and experiences are provided.

During the development of your practicum plan, keep in mind that some of its aspects will probably be modified from time to time as you move through the practicum. Modifications may be based on your evolving experience, your site supervisor's suggestions, and/or your university supervisor's advice. While the practicum plan is intended to give broad as well as specific structure to your experience, it is also to be seen as flexible and dynamic to accommodate change and new opportunity.

Send a copy of your practicum plan with your Self-Assessment Planning Document to your university supervisor by the date indicated on your practicum calendar, which will be given to you at the orientation meeting.

3. Weekly Logs and Reflections (Appendix C)

A weekly or bi-weekly log, which lists time (hours) spent in categories of the State Standards, must be submitted at the end of every week. Please use an Excel spreadsheet or a Google doc spreadsheet to record your hours.

A reflective summary should accompany each week's logs. This is an opportunity for you to reflect on key activities you have had in relation to the State Standards. A reflective summary provides you with the opportunity to highlight what worked well, what you learned from the week's experiences as well as what you may do differently in the future. It is also an opportunity for you to determine how you will structure your time for the coming week.

4. Profile and Analysis of Data of Primary Practicum Site (Appendix D)

The following activities may have been completed in ELDR 5103 OR ELDR 5323 Leadership in Educational Settings (Sections I and II) and in ELDR 5333 Curriculum Development, Assessment, and Evaluation (Section III). If they weren't, then you will complete them during your practicum. These activities should be placed in your portfolio.

You are expected to develop a profile of your primary practicum site by completing the Guide for Developing a Profile of the Practicum Site in Appendix D. The objective is to help you become better acquainted with your school and its community.

Section I. Characteristics of the School is due before the site visit is made by your university supervisor. Sections II and III (Portfolio found in Appendix E) will be submitted to your university supervisor by the specified dates on your practicum calendar. All sections should be placed in your portfolio.

5. Professional Development Day

As you go through your semester completing the tasks of the practicum, you will be provided with a chance to practice the skills that you hope will help you get hired as an assistant principal, director, or coordinator. This chance will occur during the required one-day Professional Development Day. During this day, a series of activities will be scheduled and you will have the opportunity to ask questions, practice interviews, and complete items for your portfolio. A sample schedule of a Professional Development Day (PDD) is below:

- 8:00-9:30 Welcome, housekeeping, presentation on how to prepare for an interview with Q & A
- 9:30-9:40 Break
- 9:40-10:40 Administrator Panel—Administrators from the Dallas/Fort Worth Metroplex will participate in a panel that focuses on tips on how to get your first administrative position.
- 10:50-11:30 Lunch and related discussion (i.e., TTESS, AEL, Budget)
- 11:35-12:45 Mock Committee Interviews/time to work on the portfolio/individual interview with assigned professor
- 12:50-1:30 Complete PDD Survey and Dismissal

This schedule is subject to change depending on the availability of practicing administrators and professors.

6. Evaluations (Appendix F)

During your exit review with your site supervisor at the end of your practicum, it is important that your site supervisor complete and discuss with you the Site Supervisor Evaluation provided in Appendix F. This evaluation must be mailed or faxed to both Khara Sherrill and the university supervisor by the date indicated on the practicum calendar.

The Survey of Practicum Program should be completed by you and emailed to both Mrs. Khara Sherrill (ksherrill@twu.edu) and your university supervisor.

The Student Information Sheet should be completed by you and emailed to both Mrs. Khara Sherrill at ksherrill@twu.edu.

The Professional Development Day (PDD) evaluation should be completed by you and handed to your supervising professor upon completion of the PDD.

Practicum Plan

SAMPLE PRACTICUM PLAN PART I.Summary of Personal and Professional Goals for Practicum

My goal is to integrate the knowledge I have learned through coursework in educational administration with a practicum at  Elementary, under the direction of my campus administrator, . Through the practicum, I intend to gain hands-on experience in the daily life and work of an administrator. I further look to apply, refine, and to assess my knowledge and skills in areas related to the Texas State Standards.

During the course of my practicum, I intend to assist in significant and varied administrative responsibilities under the supervision of my campus administrative team. As I progress through the practicum, I hope to assume increasing levels of responsibility that will enable me to experience the full range of duties performed by an educational administrator.

As an outcome of my practicum experience, my goal is to develop new areas of expertise, leadership, and management abilities through the tasks and activities outlined in my proposal. I will have assembled a portfolio including a log of 160 or more practicum hours, documents related to the administrative tasks, notes and projects completed. The experiences will enhance my competence to assume a future administrative position.

SAMPLE WEEKLY REFLECTIONIntern Report for the Week of _____

What a week. Many opportunities to learn new things! I started off the week on Monday morning overcoming a fear. I must admit the fear of facilitating an ARD is one of the things I have been most fearful of. I think the reasoning for this fear is... What if I mess up? What if a question is asked, and I don't know the answer? My principal gave me the simple honor of reading the statement of confidentiality and also the assurances at the end of the ARD. This particular ARD was one of the most positive I've ever seen. The student was released from our dyslexia program, and his teachers said what a great student he is and sang his praises! Even though I only had limited responsibility in the leadership role during the ARD, I feel that I have a better understanding and comfort level about what is expected of me in this role. I also had the opportunity of leading a conference with the 5th grade team and a concerned father. This was a typical conference and went fairly smoothly.

One of the highlights of the week was helping the new parents enroll their kindergartener. I really enjoyed telling the parents (and future students) how excited we were to welcome them and hoped that they felt warm and accepted at our campus. It is really nice to see these fresh excited eyes and spirits as they anticipate such a big day in their lives. Seeing the joy that many of the students have renews my own joy in teaching and learning. I was also the "on-call" administrator one afternoon while my principal, assistant principal, and secretary took our counselor out to eat for Counselor Appreciation Week. I answered phones, checked students in and out, and helped trouble-shoot a few problems.

Later in the week I met with two of our special education teachers and trained them on how to use our online grade book, E-Sembler. Until now, the Special Education Department sent home their IEP report cards. Now they must send how the IEP report card and a "regular" report card compare. To me, I can see the teachers' frustration in something that they see should be started at the beginning of the year and not mid-year.

Profile of Primary Practicum Site

GUIDE FOR DEVELOPING A PROFILE OF THE PRIMARY PRACTICUM SITE

The main purpose of this guide is to assist you in the development of a profile of the school and community in which you are doing your primary practicum. The objective is for you to become better acquainted with the school and its community. Feel free to add to this guide as needed.

You may use your Academic Excellence Indicator System (AEIS) and Public Education Information Management System (PEIMS) and Texas Academic Performance Reports (TAPR) as references for much of this information. Your campus improvement plan should be a helpful resource as well. Documents created for grant applications, Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) accreditation, and Blue Ribbon awards should also be useful references.

Section I. Characteristics of the School is due before the site visit is made by your university supervisor.

Please note that the first site visit is required within the first six weeks of the internship/practicum.

Section II. Leadership of the School will be due as indicated on the practicum calendar that you will receive at the orientation meeting.

Section III. Analysis of Data and Recommendations for Improvement will be presented to your university supervisor at the end of the semester. The format and due date will be determined by your university supervisor.

Note: The entire GUIDE is subject to revision by your university supervisor.

Chalk Talk

- Each of the observation bullets is written on a chart.
- Everyone gets a marker.
- You will walk around the room and write responses on as many charts as time allows.
- Think about your responses from both the field supervisor and candidate lenses to strengthen observations.
- Tie your responses to best practices.

Looking at the topic on the paper:

- What questions or considerations come to mind when you think about this observation behavior?
- What connections do you make with others' responses?
- Why do we do "this" during observations?

Paraphrasing and Summarizing

Paraphrasing is repeating in your own words what you interpreted someone else to be saying. Paraphrasing is powerful means to show that you are listening and understand – or are trying to understand – what is being shared.

Intern: My educational diagnostician intern role has been exciting.
